

WoF recheck vouchers have now expired

In September last year, the Transport Agency announced it would no longer be issuing vouchers for WoF rechecks as a result of service provider suspension. We also mentioned that vouchers already issued were valid until the expiry date stated on letter sent to the vehicle owner.

All vouchers issued have now expired and we are no longer accepting claims and processing payments.

If a vehicle owner presents you with a WoF recheck voucher, please explain that the voucher is expired, and the Transport Agency is no longer able to process these claims.