

Vehicle certification administration fees - information now available (applies to all certification types)

The new vehicle certification administration fees have been signed off and will come into effect on 1 November 2014. There are changes that affect all types of certification, not just WoF and CoF. Please click on the link below for more detailed information, including a guide that explains how these fees will be applied. The guide also includes a link to a questions and answers document.

<http://www.nzta.govt.nz/vehicle/registration-licensing/cof/vehicle-certification-admin-fees.html>