VIRM: Entry certification amendment - effective 29 January 2022

Automation of fuel consumption data input into MVR

From 29 January, the fuel consumption data that you manually enter in MVR after completing the fuel consumption statement will be done via an automated process. This means that instead of printing the fuel consumption statement and re-entering the data into MVR, you'll just need to go into MVR to check that the vehicle information is correct. THE entry VIRM has been updated to reflect this change.

You'll still be able to print the fuel consumption statement, but you won't be required to do this.
